

On Tuesday 26th June, it was RE day at Firs Farm. In the morning we had a visitor to talk about Sikhism. Mila had already guessed that it would be Mrs Burton as she knew that she was a Sikh! Mrs Burton told us that what she liked most about being a Sikh is that everyone is equal and it is all about helping others. That's why she is a teacher! 4WS had lots of questions for her, they were particularly interested in the Gurus, important colours in Sikhism and the festivals that they celebrated.

After play we worked with 3F who had been learning about Islam. Both classes created fact files and then shared one thing that they had learnt.

In the afternoon, we created sculptures using clay to represent respect. Here are some of our finished designs!
